

ProjectoWrite

Interactive

Like an interactive whiteboard, the ProjectoWrite gives you complete control of your presentation, making it equally effective for academic and business applications in venues of virtually any size. Its built-in CCD camera detects IR interruption so that you can use your mouse, e-pen or e-wand to manipulate text, data or images. Capture, modify, save or email anything that's visible on the screen. Write notes, circle key points, type changes into documents – all in real time.

The ProjectoWrite is the first interactive presentation projector. Give presentations and have the ability to take notes on the screen or highlight key points—in real time. Control the line thickness and color—take hand written notes, circle key points, type text and save as a jpeg for future presentations. The ProjectoWrite also features Unplug & Go, which allows the presenter to unplug the projector and go, without waiting for it to cool!
